a time..

SUDDENLY

you met someone

This love becomes the

PROTOTYPE

upon which future love is based

If you escape the past

and love

changed

you

forever.

nce upon

you may meet someone new

HOW to LOVE

you were wandering carefree
through the pre-love world.

and it can be easy to mistake
this for "perfection"

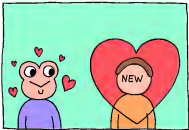

because we know nothing else.

You may search for the same thing you found

then you can love someone new
for who they are.

but they will never match
the expectations you have created.

but you have changed since then and need something different.
